“ This is a message to the Hogwood family... i have grate admiration for a family so strong. Over the years I have seen you go through so much, yet you still seem to stay close to the Lord and to each other all the while standing on his promises. Mrs. Annette I pray your streinght in Jesus through all of your greif and pain, but rest.. knowing that we too shall go home one day and dine at the table with the Holy Father along side all of those that we now morn. The pain of the homegoing down here is always great, but the reception in the holy Kingdom is much greater. May the Lord bless and keep you all doing this painful time.. That too shall pass.

“ What a wonderful tribute to Jackie. I know all the Hogwoods have to be very proud. She was a beautiful woman that I'm sure touched many lives. I work with Gaston and have helped him weather these tough times. I lost my sister to cancer just last year and know exactly what he's going through. It is with the support of friends that a person can become stronger from experiencing the death of a sibling. Like I told "Hog", as time goes on, all that you will remember are the good times, nothing bad. He shared some stories with me about he and Jackie's relationship when they were young and it reminded me of the relationship I had with my brothers when we were young. Funny how that brother/sister love/rivalry relationship is there no matter who's family your talking about. My husband, Kirk, and I extend our deepest sympathy on your loss and will keep the family in our prayers. Know that I'll help in any way possible, at work, to make sure "Hog" gets through this tough time.

Through your death which is truly unfortunate, I pray that this family can find peace that you have enter into, and be able to come together and get to know each other, before the storm. Rest.*
