“ So long Brother,

I will truly miss our daily phone calls as we checked in with each other. I shall forever cherish how excited we were when we witnessed the first black president, Barrack Obama, being sworn in. You inspired me to pursue professional music and I will never forget the experiences we shared while performing with the 384th Army Band. There are so many things I shall never forget for instance...growing up on 32nd Street, the births of your children, you left me with so many memories and as you continue your music in the heavenly orchestra save a seat for me. Rest my brother in Heavenly Peace. Lewis

“ What a great man. I remember him as the minister of music for Zion Baptist Church. I was in the Angelic and Young Adult Choir. He could really play that organ. God has one of the best angels. My condolences to the Powers family.
