“ Where do I begin, I will always remember the little red headed girl who grew to be a loving and caring woman. You loved your daddy and always wanted him near you. Family was everything to you and you made sure to let us know you loved us no matter what. More time, man if we had more time.....we could've made more memories. I love you today, tomorrow and forever. You are resting now with Aunt Linda.

Kyna, Kyna I am missing you already. You called me so often just to let me know that you were okay. And whenever you needed anything you knew exactly to call me and I would do whatever I could for you. You would start off by saying Auntie Pat and I knew exactly what you needed. I enjoyed you phone calls and visits when I was working at Social Services. I can hear you now on the phone we talked and laughed about a lot of things from the past to the future. You will forever be in my heart. RIP Kyna, I love you always. Auntie Pat Moore
