“ Michael use to come into the bestbuy i worked at regularly. He was a delightful and amazing person. Always polite and friendly, with the most interesting and engaging stories. I always looked forward to him coming in. Unfortunately around 2020 i was sent to work from home so i didnt get hear about his passing till recently. My world is a little sadder with him passing but i still bring up our conversation to others and on occasion even my kids bring up some story i shared about our conversation. My prayers to family and friends
