“ To the family & Friends of Rosezina, May God be your guided light and may your hearts be free from sadness. I will keep you as the family and friends lifted in prayer and I will continue to pray that you turn to God in your deepest darkest hour. When it seems too much to bare just lean on God and he will guide you to a more peaceful place. I know it seems hard right now, but just know that God will never give us more than we can bare. Our God is mighty and will be with you as long as you trust and believe, invite him in and he will make it better. May God Bless you always,
